Our South Pole flight is the only commercial scenic flight to the South Pole directly from Australia, making it a unique opportunity for Antarctica enthusiasts and bucket-listers alike.

Set to take place over 16 spectacular hours, lucky travellers will find themselves flying to earth's end from the comfort of a Qantas Boeing Dreamliner 787.

Celebrating some of Antarctica's most illustrious history, this scenic flight plans to take travellers across the largest body of floating ice on the planet; the Ross Ice Shelf, then over the Beardmore Glacier and the Transantarctic Mountains, and all going well, all the way to the South Pole, as it retraces the out-route of Robert Falcon Scott during his race to the South Pole.

The international research station, manned year-round at the South Pole, will be witnessed from the air before the flight makes its way back across the vast Polar Plateau, to the Axel Heiburg Glacier and, again, across the Ross Ice Shelf to the Bay of

SOUTH POLE SCENIC FLIGHT

Whales, all along Amundsen's successful route home, where he was crowned the victor in the race to the South Pole.

There will be a team of Antarctica and history experts to share with you the details of the history of the Heroic Age of Exploration as well as the geographic wonders of Antarctica.

Whilst exact views and exactly the route we take will be determined by conditions on the day, the prospect of many incredible highlights are bountiful. Every traveller will have the privilege of a magical trip that few can claim to have done; to say that you are one of the few individuals in human history to have visited the South Pole, had the chance to appreciate the enormity of Antarctica and to truly appreciate heroic feats of Scott and Amundsen's journeys, is something incredibly unique.

For those lucky enough to secure a place on this historic flight, you will return with a head full of incredible stories and memories of unbelievable vistas, all from the comfort of a Qantas Boeing 787-9 Dreamliner.

Why do this flight?

Whilst the route of this flight is a bucket-lister and Antarctica buff's dream-come-true, the excitement and entertainment inside the cabin, as we trace the routes of formidable explorers will be palpable.

* Please note it is recommended to be double vaccinated against COVID-19 when traveling on this flight.

Who else do you know can claim to have been to the South Pole?
