

THE ARCTIC - ADVENTURE IN GREENLAND | LE BOREAL

INTRODUCTION

NO SINGLE SUPPLEMENT ON SELECTED DEPARTURES*

With featured guest Laurent Mayet, in partnership with Le Cercle Polaire, as part of the Women at the Poles operation.

Set off on a journey to explore the uncharted territory along Greenland's eastern coast. You will walk in the footsteps of the famous explorers who, starting in the 19th century, pushed the limits of polar navigation during this 15-day adventure journey.

Le Boréal will travel to Jan Mayen Island, which was highly important to Captain Jean-Baptiste Charcot, from Longyearbyen in Spitsbergen. This remote, uninhabited volcanic island, which sits at the meeting point of the North Atlantic and Arctic seas, is home to enormous bird colonies and was once a whale hunting destination. Set out for Iceland to explore the little settlement of Isafjörður, located in the country's northwest among the fjords, an untamed region filled with hidden valleys and dizzying cliffs. After that, your ship will sail on to Greenland, a region renowned for its untamed landscapes, fjords, and alpine settings. You will go in the footsteps of some of the great people who chose to venture outside the boundaries of the known world in this area of folklore and significant arctic explorations. Across the width of this island lies the slender Prince Christian Sound, a canal that links Greenland's southeast to southwest. A magnificent wild terrain featuring craggy peaks, rugged cliffs, waterfalls, and floating ice is home to frolicking colonies of bearded seals. The final leg of your voyage will take you up Greenland's west coast. Admire the breathtaking Ikka and Tasermiut fjords as well as the blue-tinged Narsaq icebergs while traveling. Erik the Red established what would become the first European settlement in Greenland here, in the Qaqortoq region. This amazing voyage will conclude at Kangerlussuaq, your final port of call.

Later in the day, within the vast and mythical expanse of Greenland, your ship charts its course towards the Kujalleq Glacier in the Prince Christian Sound region. ### DAY 10: Qaqortoq & Igaliku

Today you will embark on a captivating journey following the currents of the Davis Strait, and soon the largest town in southern Greenland, Qaqortoq, unveils itself in a rocky landscape adorned with pristine white in winter and enchanting green in summer. As your ship glides into the fjord embracing the town, a panorama of delightful, brightly-colored houses perched on the surrounding hillsides comes into view. This charming fishing port, the southernmost in Greenland, invites exploration with its distinct Danish influences evident in the town center's streets, adorned with numerous historical buildings and landmarks. Venture through the town center, where you'll encounter the country's famous and oldest fountain, crowned with whales. A short distance away, immerse yourself in the vibrant atmosphere of the town's open-air fish market, where local fishermen gather to showcase the day's catch. In the curve of a magnificent, sinuous fjord, the small village of Igaliku awaits discovery. Renowned as the episcopal seat during the Viking period, Igaliku boasts a red sandstone cathedral dedicated to Saint Nicholas, constructed in 1126. Unearthed ruins in 1926 revealed the site's earlier use as a pagan sanctuary. The village's origins, shaped by a Danish farmer and his Greenlandic wife who settled in 1782, are detailed in a small museum within the church. Igaliku serves as a launching point for hikes to waterfalls, Erik's Fjord, or the Narsarsuaq plateau, offering breathtaking views of majestic icebergs in the fjord and the Qooroq glacier.

DAY 11: Narsaq

After sailing in the Kangerlluarssuk fjord, discover the town of Narsaq. You will be dazzled by the beauty of the surrounding icebergs – large masses of ice in different shapes and shifting colours. Dominated by lush mountains, this small town is typical of Greenland. It is known for its sheep farming, made possible by the rich, grassy plains to the town's north. This rather rare activity reflects a past and a technique inherited from the Vikings. Admire the stunning interplay of colours between the multicoloured house facades and the glaciers with their myriad shades of blue, and dive into the Scandinavian history of Narsaq by visiting the local museum. A unique experience.

DAY 12: Ikka Fjord

As you sail through the majestic Ikka Fjord in south-west Greenland, you will discover over 10,000 years of underwater geology, for mysterious columns up to 20 metres high, formed several millennia ago, rise up from the seabed. Their material, ikaite, gives the fjord its name. Truly magical! You glide over calm, clear waters amidst breathtaking mountains in the endlessly wild, huge area of Greenland.

DAY 13: At Sea

DAY 14: Evighedsfjorden

Your ship glides slowly along the water towards the west coast of Greenland, to enter Evighedsfjorden, just a few kilometres south of Kangerlussuaq. Evighedsfjorden means "the fjord of Eternity", and for good reason: just when you think you've reached the end of this stretch of sea measuring over 100 kilometres in length, it seems to go on forever, as though to bring even more pleasure to those sailing in it. The spectacular scenery ranges from glaciers to tundra with an abundant flora, and jagged cliffs where numerous bird species have taken up residence.
